WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS ASTHMA, BRONCHITES, GENERAL DEBILITY, AND ALL SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

THE Proprietor has succeeded (from directions of Professor Stone) in combining the Oil and Lime so perfectly that the taste of the Oil, which is so nauseous to persons generally, is entirely overcome, and it can be taken by the most delicate females with pleasure. And as regards the benefit of this article over the clear oil, the following case, by Prof. Stone, is sufficient to convince the most skeptical. The young lady was twenty-four years of age.

"Her disease was one of unmixed phthisic, which had been expected to terminate in the course of a few months, fatally. The upper part of both her lungs were filled with tubercles; and in some places were beginning to soften. The case was evidently a bad one. The treatment of Cod Liver Oil was at first used, but without marked improvement. The Phosphate of Lime was then administered with the oil, and the result, as in the case of many others, was soon apparent. The patient was rapidly getting well."

CAUTION.—On account of the great reputation of this Compound for all Lung complaints, the subscriber would caution the afflicted against using any except that manufactured by him, as he has the only recipe in the United States for combining the pure Oil with lime in a proper manner. Therefore as you value your health, purchase none except that manufactured by

PROFESSOR ALEX. C. BARRY'S

TRICOPHEROUS, or Medicated Compound,

FOR beautifying, improving, and preserving the Hair, curing cuts, bruises, burns, stings, rheumatism, and all irritations of the skin. A preparation, the sale of which amounts to one million of bottles annually, would seem to need no advertisement; but as the thousands who purchase, use, and approve of it, have probably no idea of the enormous extent of the business done by Professor Barry, he gives herewith a plain statement of facts derived from his books, and with them tenders his earnest and hearty thanks to his innumerable patrons.

Professor Barry's accounts of sales for the year 1852, show that during that year about 910,000 bottles of his Tricopherous were disposed of, and that the cash product of this immense sale was nearly $100 000.

This plain, unvarnished tale, is a better commentary on the value of the article than any thing its inventor could say. If it were not peerless in its effect upon the hair—if it were not invaluable as a household remedy for cuts, bruises, burns, skin diseases, &c.—it would not, of course, be so universally in demand. The wealthy portion of the public would buy it at any price, but Professor Barry has reduced it to a figure so low that the poorest can avail themselves of its benefits.

Sold in large bottles (price 25 cents) at wholesale and retail, at the manufactory and depot 137 Broadway, New York, and by the principal merchants and druggists throughout the United States and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c.

PATENT SELF HEATING
SMOOTHING IRON!

MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century, relieving and facilitating the labor of men by machinery and other modern implements; but females have been nearly neglected until the introduction of the Patent Self Heating Smoothing Iron, which will relieve them, in a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of Ironing, besides being a great saving of time, and expense. This Iron combines economy, convenience, saving of labor, and despatch; one cent's worth of dry charcoal supplies fuel for a whole days' constant ironing. Hard wood coal from the stove will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room or in the open air. Hatters' and Tailors' Irons are constructed upon the same principle and possess equal superiority.

CITY OF CAIRO, EGYPT.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—As I remarked in my last letter, we left the Mahmoudie canal and entered the Nile at the town of Atfeli, ascended it by the Rosetta branch. A little below the city of Cairo, this great river, as if desirous of rescuing a larger portion of fertility from the surrounding deserts, divides itself into two streams of nearly equal size. One of them, the Damietta branch, flows in an easterly direction, and passing by the considerable towns of Semnood and Mansoora, enters the Mediterranean near the city of Damietta. This city contains at the present time twenty-eight thousand inhabitants; but was formerly much more important than at present; and in the times of the crusades was regarded as the entrance and the key to Egypt in that direction. The Rosetta branch flows in a westerly direction, and enters the Mediterranean not far from the city of Rosetta. The Rosetta and Damietta branches at their entrance into the sea are eighty miles distant from each other;—leaving between them the triangular tract of land, bounded on the north by the Mediterranean, which is denominated, on account of its form, the Delta of the Nile. The Delta was anciently much larger than at present. On the eastern side of it was the land of Goshen, which held so conspicuous a place in the narratives of the Old Testament,—also the great Egyptian city of Zoar, frequently mentioned in the Scriptures likewise, which was situated on the ancient Tanitic branch of the Nile.

In ascending the Nile from Atfeli to Cairo by the Rosetta branch, we were frequently delayed by opposing winds. This was in some respects favorable. It gave us opportunity to visit many of the numerous villages which line its banks, and to notice the methods of living and sources of support. The people have a knowledge of a few domestic mechanic arts, such as the making of a coarse pottery, the weaving and coloring of cloths, boat-building and the making of bricks. They mingle straw with the mud or clay from which their bricks are made as was done in the time of the Pharaohs. But they find their principal support in the cultivation of the soil and in the keeping of flocks and herds. The soil, formed by the overflowings of the Nile, is of great depth and richness. It is irrigated by water drawn from the Nile. The fields, waving with wheat, barley, lentiles, and the other products of the country, are not enclosed by fences. Each man distinguishes his land from his neighbor's by the large stones placed in the ground, which serves as permanent marks and boundaries. The soil and climate are favorable for the raising of cattle. The camels and oxen and sheep which we daily saw in great numbers, reminded us of the days of Jacob and his descendants, who occupied portions of this land. The sheep look like those which are seen in England and America; but the wool is coarser. The goats and sheep are not separated from each other, but go in flocks together; and are generally watched by little children, aided by a dog. I noticed that the sheep and goats are sometimes, during the night, penned together in a fold in the open field. But generally the sheep and other animals, cows, goats, donkeys and camels, are driven into the villages at night. Each house had an enclosure attached to it, formed of mud or of stalks and reeds open at the top, in which they are shut up. Sometimes they seem to be otherwise provided for. A number of times in the morning I saw the sheep and goats walking complacently about on the flat roofs of the houses. The houses are commonly made of unburnt bricks, hardened in the sun.

The oxen of Egypt, those which we first met with and which are much the most frequent, are of a large size, resembling somewhat in shape the buffalo of America, black in color, with scarcely an exception, and with large crooked horns reaching back and depressed almost horizontally with the neck. I often saw them patiently turning the wheel of the Sakia, or drawing the plough through the fields. The plough is very simple in its construction, being hardly more than a hard sharpened stick of wood, though some times pointed with iron. It could not easily have been more simple in the days of the Patriarchs. The oxen are very tractable. I have seen them with a string round the horn or neck, led home from the fields at night by little children.

At one time I noticed a herd of these animals, which may be said to make a part of an Arab's family, on the brink of the Nile, under the care of two boys. It was just as the sun was sitting. They belonged to a village on the western side, and were on their way home from a pasture ground, where they had been feeding during the day. I noticed their appearance, because they stood crowded together, about twenty in number, silent and thoughtful, as if meditating some act of importance. The boys took off their clothes, tied them in bundles, and fastened them on their own heads. They then mounted the backs of two of the animals, gave the word of command, and the whole herd plunged into the river. They passed directly in front of the boat at a place where the Nile was running more rapidly than common. The boatmen suspended their rowing. Nothing was seen of the cattle but their black heads and horns moving towards the other shore. The boys sat upright with the bundles of clothes on their heads. They made a singular appearance, moving rapidly over the Nile and apparently without any support, as the backs of the cattle were concealed under the water. They reached the other shore in safety. The boys put on their clothes. The cattle shook their wet sides on the sand, and they went together up the bank.

The inhabitants of the villages of which I am now speaking, are for the most part of Arab descent. When the Arabs overran the country in the seventh century, they wasted it, and made great destruction of the people. The descendants of the original Egyptians are found, not among the Arab portion, but among the Copts, who are few in number, and generally reside in the large towns. They are comparatively intelligent and well instructed, and profess the Christian religion. The religion of the Arabs is Mohammedan. They are poor, uneducated, and scantily clad. But the climate is such, that they do not require much clothing. Though they are poor, there is not such suffering from poverty, as is often witnessed in the large towns of Europe. They are superstitious, chiefly because they are ignorant. In repeated instances I saw the children assembled in schools in the larger towns, but did not notice any schools in the small villages. Mohammedanism is not favorable to intellectual culture. The people need the Christian religion. But the laws of the Koran and of the country are strict in the defence of the Mohammedan faith, and to death. Tyranny, therefore, here as everywhere else, is their great curse, because it blindly and cruelly opposes the gift and the reception of the greatest of blessings. There seems to be but little hope for Egypt at the present time at least for this portion of the people. It may be different with the Greeks, Armenians and Copts.

I was favorably impressed with many of their traits of character. I judge of them from what I saw. They seem to have lost the active and fierce spirit, which characterized their ancestors. They are timid, and make but poor soldiers. I shall not condemn that cowardice which shrinks from the taking of human life. As a general thing I observed no deficiency of industry; but there is very little enterprize. Their study is to live, and not to improve and advance. I cannot join with those, who are disposed to make an impeachment of their honesty,—because personally I have had no evidences to sustain it. Nor have I seen evidences of inordinate suspicion, cruelty, and disposition to injure. I have been in their villages daily. The dogs which guard every door, have sometimes attacked me. But the dogs were faithful to what they considered their trust; and I have no complaint to make of their somewhat premature and unnecessary zeal. The Arabs came and drove them away. What may be true of the Bedouin Arabs inhabiting the deserts, who are of the same race but differently situated and under different influences I am unable to say. Time will perhaps determine. But from the Arab of the Nile, I have received as decided marks of kindness, as amid the civilisation of Europe.

I will mention a single instance, which may be taken as an illustration of their treatment of me. One day the boat was fastened to the shore on account of a head wind. I strayed away alone into the fields, as was sometimes my practice. Passing near the little hut of an Arab sheperd, who was seated at his door on a mat, he made signs to come and sit down. I accepted the invitation and sat down on the mat with him, and we began to converse in signs, aided by a few Arabic and Italian words which one easily picks up. I felt quite at home. In a short time he arose and went into his dwelling, which was a very simple enclosure formed partly by a mud wall and partly by a fence of long reeds which were strongly bound together, and which was covered at the top with a roof of corn stalks. Bringing out a jug of water and a wooden dish filled with excellent dates, he invited me to eat. I could not well refuse his hospitality. I was pleased, because I saw he had that faith, which can take hold of the common link of human brotherhood. Looking up I saw a little child peeping round the corner of the hut. This was a new incident. I made signs to it to come to me; but it was frightened at my strange appearance, and ran away. The father smiled at this, and got up, and ran after the child, and brought it back. I pacified it with a little present, and we soon became good friends. The result of this was, that in a little time all the children, some four or five in number, came round successively, from an opening on the other side of the enclosure. After a little while the Arab's wife came also with an infant in her arms. The sun shone brightly, but we were on the shady side of the bank and a gentle breeze made music in the reeds. It was quite a family meeting, and I tried to make them as well pleased with me, as I was with them. I staid half an hour, and I saw not how much longer the visit might have been prolonged; but our captain, (the Rais, as the people of the country call him) sent one of his men, named Mohammed, to find me. He came with an amazing long club to guard me, as he said, against the Arabs, which seemed to me a very unnecessary precaution. I left my hospitable entertainers, well pleased with my visit, and with sincere desires and prayers for their happiness;—and have often thought of them since.

It was to this region of Egypt the Pharaoh sent to the brethren of Joseph; and it answers well the description given of it, as the "best of the land." And no one can visit it at the present time, without seeing, that it is peculiarly suited to their occupation as herdsmen. It is at the head of the Delta on the eastern side, and probably a little beyond its present limits, that we are to look for the site of the ancient city of Rameses, from which the children of Israel started on their memorable journey in the wilderness. Rameses is spoken of as one of the "treasury cities of Egypt." It probably had its palaces and architectural monuments, but like many other great cities of Egypt, nothing now remains of it. At the head of the Delta is a long and beautiful bridge in the course of erection, extending over both branches of the Nile a little below the point where the river separates. It is a very picturesque object as viewed by one in ascending the Nile. It is nearly finished, apparently a mile and a half in length, if we include the portion of the Delta, which unites the two parts together, and will compare well in strength and beauty with other great structures of that kind.

I find that I have omitted many incidents of this little voyage; but I will mention one. At a certain time walking near a little village I heard a sad and piercing cry. It was the mourning wail of the Egyptian women. They tossed their arms wildly, as if frantic with grief, and scattered dust upon their garments. It reminded me of the descriptions of sorrow and wailing which are given in the Scriptures. The occasion was indeed a sad one;—the death of a little boy, who the day before was drowned in the Nile. He laid dead in the house. The mourners were outside;—some standing and some sitting on the sand. As I stood near, a witness and perhaps I may say a sharer of their grief, I saw a company of mourning friends and relatives coming from another village. The Arab loves his children, and his grief is bitter when they die. The voice of anguish sounded from village to village, and from one side of the Nile to the other.

But the traveler stops neither for joy nor sorrow; His sympathy, ruled by the occasion, may harmonize with either, but it passes on. He gives a smile or a tear, a just tribute to a common nature, and then goes forward to his own place.

In eight days from Alexandria we arrived at Cairo, our boat stopped at Boulak, which is the harbor of Cairo. The bank of the river at Boulak is steeped and rocky. For a mile or more it was lined with the large boats of the Nile;—a number of which bore the American flag. We saw signs of activity, wealth, commerce, intelligence. Cairo is only a mile and a half distant; and is so connected with Boulak, notwithstanding the low sunken ground between them, that in the eye of a stranger they are essentially one city. In coming back from Thebes we shall of course stop here, and I shall therefore speak of it now only in a few words.

Cairo contains two hundred thousand inhabitants; divided and characterized by descent, history and religion;—Arabs, Turks, Armenians, Greeks and Copts. There also are the Nubian and the European. The number of the old Egyptian or Coptic race, of whose situation and prospects we hope to learn something further, is said to be sixty thousand. It is through them, as it seems to me, that we must look for the religious recovery of Egypt.

The streets of the city, the buildings and gardens, the dress, manners and occupations of the people, all remind us, that we are in a great city of the East. We are in the midst of oriental civilization without the modifications, which in Alexandria it is constantly receiving from the West. Knowledge has a different language. Art has different eyes. We perceive more and more, and not without painful emotions, that we are in a land of a different religion. The lofty minaret of the mosque of Mohammed Ali glitters in the sun.

Nature also, still more than at the mouth of the Nile, puts on a new dress. It is a land of flowers; and I might almost say every flower has its singing bird upon it. The palm, the acacia, and the orange are here. We have come once more to the region of mountains. I look upon them with the emotions of one who has loved them from childhood. But they are not the mountains of our own land. Back of the city, and guarding it from the Syrian desert, are the bare, broken, and lifeless heights of Mokattam. Embosomed in the Nile are the beautiful gardens of the isle of Rhoda—the place where, according to the traditions of the country, the infant Moses was exposed in the bulrushes. On the opposite bank of the river, near the site of the wasted and buried city of Memphis, are the pyramids. They stand alone, with the sandy billows of the Lybian desert breaking around them, like the peak of Stromboli in the midst of the sea.

But it is dangerous to get the first glance of such an object when one is closing a letter. There are no pyramids in America. Mountains and mounds, the monuments of a departed race are there; but not the pyramids of Egypt. We will look at them again, when we return from the Statue of Memnon. V.

KENTUCKY ELECTION. From the returns received at the last advices from Louisville, it is probable that the following members of Congress are elected from Kentucky:—First District—Linn Boyd, Democrat. Third District—Presley Ewing, Whig. Seventh District—William Preston, Whig. Eighth District—John C. Breckenridge, Democrat. From the Second, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Ninth Districts nothing definite has been received. The returns received, indicate no change in the political character of the delegation. The contest in the Eighth District was an animated one, Breckenridge, the Democratic candidate, being opposed by Ex-Governor Letcher, Whig. The election of Breckenridge is claimed by from three to five hundred majority.

LONE STAR ASSOCIATIONS. The New Orleans Bulletin announces the formation of several new Lodges of the Fillibustering Order of the Lone star in Louisiana, and remarks:—

"The annexation of Cuba will assuredly ruin the sugar interests of Louisiana, yet we see the organs of sugar Parishes chronicling the institutions of the Lone Star organization, without a word of comment. And to go back a few months, we can find that Democratic sugar-planters of the same Parish met in public meeting and passed Cuban annexation resolutions. They had better look out for their own interests, and the sooner the better".

WHIG NOMINATION.

FOR GOVERNOR,

WILLIAM G. CROSBY.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

QUEBEC, July 25.

A visit to the River St. Lawrence at this season of the year, which is altogether the most favorable portion of the year for such a visit, very strongly inclines and almost forces one to visit the city of Quebec. From Montreal the distance is about two hundred miles down the river, and through St. Peter's Lake. There are excellent steamboats leaving Montreal and Quebec every evening, and arriving at the end of their trip at an early hour the next morning. These boats carry great quantities of freight and cattle, sheep and horses down the river, and take large companies of emigrants on their way to the mighty West, on their passage up the river. The number of cabin passengers, each way, is also large.

Quebec is now the capital of United Canada, the mob and the destruction of the Parliament House at Montreal, having caused the removal of the seat of government to this city. It is situated on the north shore of the river St. Lawrence, and was founded in 1608. Its present population is about forty-five thousand. The city is of triangular form, the Plains of Abraham forming the base, and the rivers St. Lawrence and St. Charles, the sides. It is naturally, as well as artificially, divided into two parts, known as the Upper and the Lower Town. The upper town is thoroughly a walled city, strongly fortified with numerous heavy cannons and large mortars, and there is included within the walls and making a part of them, the Citadel of Cape Diamond, the most formidable fortress in all America. This citadel is in admirable repair, and is manned by a large number of Infantry and Artillery of the regular British Army, and is constantly kept provisioned for a long seige.

The lower town is upon a narrow strip of and or ledge, which runs at the base of the Cape, and of the high ground and Cliff, upon which the upper town and citadel stand. The suburbs, somewhat extensive, of St. Roch's and St. John, not altogether saintly places however, extend along the river St. Charles and to the Plains of Abraham.

The communication between the upper walled town and the lower unwalled town, is by means of five massive gates, near each of which a military guard is always to be found. These gates are the openings through the high massive walls of the upper town. The names of these gates are, Prescott, Palace, Hope, St. Johns, and St. Louis. The first three named communicate immediately with the business part of the lower town, and the last two communicate with the suburbs.

The line of fortifications, enclosing the citadel and the upper town, is about three miles in length. In addition to the walls and the citadel, there are four Martello Towers, about forty feet high, built in a circular shape, of stone, and at a distance of about three fourths of a mile from the city, fronting the Plains of Abraham, and intended to impede the advance of an enemy in that direction, they being mounted by cannon. But they are so constructed that should they be taken by an enemy, they may be easily demolished by shot from the city walls.

On the highest point of the rocky cliff, on which the upper town is built, is a platform, known as Durham Terrace, commanding a splendid view of the river and the lower town, together with the shipping in the harbor. In looking over the wall at this place the roofs and chimneys of the three story houses in the lower town appear at a great distance below. On the spot occupied by this platform we are informed that the old Castle of St. Louis formerly stood. The view from this point gives a most interesting and extensive panorama of natural scenery and of historic value. The St. Lawrence spreads out in all its grandeur—its banks highly cultivated, with here and there neat villages clustered, around a large church; the shipping of various nations displaying their several flags; the broad river flats covered with immense rafts of ponderous timber, while upon the side of the cliff is marked the spot where Montgomery fell, and just over the wall to the right, are the Plains of Abraham, where fell Montcalm and Wolfe, the representatives of their several nations, in the conflict of war, and within sight is the beautiful monument erected in honor of the valor of both.

The ramparts of the city afford a beautiful promenade and a fine view of the surrounding scenery, and between the ramparts and the public street, there is a beautiful piece of ground, used as a military parade and drill ground.

Every part of the walls of the city and every department of its fortifications are kept in the best of order. The guard is mounted at points overlooking the whole, and at about the distance of every thirty feet is mounted a thirty two pound cannon, or a mortar, and by the side of each is a stack of iron balls, all kept neatly painted and in order for immediate action.

The Cathedrals and Nunneries are commanding, and the frequent sight of soldiers and the prominence of cathedrals and the frequent ringing of the cathedral bells, do give a strange prominence to the church and the army—the bible and the sword—the kettle drum and the organ. The familiar jostling of these in the market place, amidst the various exercises in the worship of commerce, strangely jars and shocks our simple New England tastes and notions, and make us half think, that with labor respected and commerce enlightened, and the bible and heart-worship free, the world can get along without robed Priests and epauletted Generals.

The Roman Catholic French Cathedral, fronting on the upper town market place, is a large stone building, and has several excellent paintings, by the old masters. It will seat four thousand persons.

The English Cathedral is a large handsome edifice. It has a good organ and is fitted up with various tablets of inscriptions, among them the ten commandments. The choir in this church is very numerous, and their singing is excellent. The pews are uncommonly high, of dark wood, and neither the reading of the prayers or selections, or even the preaching of the sermon, bore any fair proportion in force and volume to the size of the church and the number of persons present, during the services we attended.

This church has a fine chime of bells and their sweet tones and pleasant chimes have a soothing and agreeable effect.

The Wesleyan Chapel is built of stone in the upright Gothic style of the middle century, is beautifully fitted up in the interior, and will seat between one and two thousand persons.

St. Andrew's Church, in connection with the Church of Scotland, was erected in 1810, is comfortably fitted up, and will seat twelve hundred persons. The minister of this church is Rev. Dr. Cook, who is generally spoken of in the city as furnishing in his discourses, the rarest intellectual treats.

The Congregational Church is of cut stone in the Gothic style.

The Baptist Church of Rev. Dr. Marsh, is also a stone building.

There are various other churches, Catholic and Protestant, which it is unnecessary here to mention. Yours.

☞ The Democracy of Maine seem to be very busily engaged in the process of washing hands. The Augusta Age washes its hands of all connection with the Oxford Democrat, and the Oxford Democrat washes its hands of the democracy advocated by the papers devoted to the Pilsbury interest. The Bangor Democrat and other papers of its line are trying hard to wash their hands of the reputation of getting up an issue against the Maine law, and for this the Portland Expositor threatens to wash its hands of any connection with them, and even tells them that if they carry this sort of game much further, it will even turn away from Mr. Pilsbury as the candidate, not from want of faith in him, but on account of the unfair and unskillful advocacy of his cause. The Expositor has no notion of a barren victory in the election of Mr. Pilsbury but designs to reap fairly and above board the advantage, as it deems it, of an expression of decided disapprobation of the Maine law.

It is sincerely to be hoped that these extensive washings may result in greater purity. The very necessity of these washings, shows to the mass of the free and independent thinkers and voters of Maine, that those who are party-led are almost sure to be led wrong, and that the only safe and proper course is, for them to exercise their individual judgment and cast an independent personal vote, as men accountable less to party than to conscience, and reason and right—to humanity and to God.

☞ The people in Boston and vicinity have had more military trainings on Sundays recently than is agreeable. In semi-military communities like Quebec, for instance, a portion of the day, between the morning and evening service, the space of an hour and a half, is devoted to religious service for the military. The parade, the music, the whole matter is systematic, the service interesting, and no one is disturbed, while all who choose can witness it.

☞ John A. Poor, Esq, publishes a card in the Portland Advertiser, in explanation of his vote against Hon. Josiah S. Little as Director in the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad, that it had been reported in this city he was opposed to the building of any railroad east of the Kennebec river. He feared that the re-election of Little would be taken as an approval of such opposition.

☞ The Boston Money Market being somewhat effected with a want of confidence has tightened up a little recently to the inconvenience of the quick borrowers but not so as to effect legitimate business.

☞ The yellow fever is raging with violence in New Orleans, four hundred and twenty-nine persons died of this disease during the week ending 22d ult.

☞ Mr. J. W. Emery has sold out his interest in the publishing department of the Eastport Sentinel. He still occupies the editorial chair.

☞ John M. Cooper a sort of waiter on political providence has been appointed Postmaster at Newburyport.

☞ Vegetation in this vicinity, since the recent rains, is uncommonly vigorous and the promise is fine for the latter crops.

RUNAWAY APPRENTICE CASE. At Philadelphia, on Saturday last, Judge Kane gave his opinion in the case of an absconding apprentice from Delaware, who was arrested in Philadelphia recently under the Fugitive Law, and decided that the law applied to all fugitives, whether white or black; and the runaway apprentice was accordingly ordered into the custody of his master.

IMMIGRATION. During the month of July 22,898 immigrants arrived at the port of New York from foreign ports, of whom 9,896 were from Ireland, 8,567 from Germany, [illegible] from England, and the remainder from various foreign countries. During the first seven months of the present year, [illegible] alien passengers arrived against [illegible] during the same months last year. The indications are that the immigration reached its maximum last year.

ARRIVAL OF THE

NIAGARA

HALIFAX, TELEGRAPH OFFICE, }
August 4,—8 o'clock, A. M. }

The Niagara, from Liverpool on the 23d ult, with one hundred and fifteen passengers, arrived at Halifax at 4 o'clock this morning, and sailed for Boston at 7 o'clock, there was her calm and a dense fog.

The U. S. ships John Hancock, Vincennes, Porpoise, and Fennimore Cooper, were at Maderia July 7th.

The steamer Sarah Sands sailed from Liverpool on the evening of the 21st, for Quebec, with two hundred and twenty passengers.

GREAT BRITAIN.

It was generally reported that Lord Palmerston would again succeed to foreign affairs, Earl Clarendon exchanging to the Home Department.

In the House of Lords on the 18th, the Government said that in a few days would terminate negotiations respecting the Turkish question when it would be published, whether successful or not.

The Earl of Portsmouth is dead.

The Queen and family are sick with the measles.

Since the Washington's sailing, Parliamentary proceedings have been chiefly of local interest. Lord John Russell replied to Lord Dudley Stewart, that he doubted if the owners of British ships aground in the Danube had any claim upon Russia to keep the navigation open. Mr Layard attempted to bring on a discussion, but was prevented.

Respecting Eastern difficulties, there is no doubt that the reception given by the Cabinet of St Petersburg to the first proposition from the powers was so favorable as to warrant the expectation that the question in dispute will be settled without further delay. The Russian Chancellor is said to have declared to the French Ambassador that the Czar will welcome the arrangement held out for his acceptance. The only motive supposed to cause further delay was the necessity of obtaining the assent of Austria, which consent is now supposed to be on the way to St. Petersburg.

If the French proposal is the one ultimately adopted, it is a note framed by the French government as a medium between the demands of Menchikoff and the terms offered by Reschid Pasha.

It is difficult to say if the following important statement be premature, but it has a good effect on public feeling. It came on the 20th by telegraph from Berlin, that the Czar had actually accepted the proposals offered by France and England. This news was reported to have been brought by steamer on the 16th to Stettin, thence published at Berlin and Dresden, and telegraphed to Paris and London, where it considerably improved the funds. The public fully believes that the main danger is over. It was also telegraphed from Vienna to London, under date of Constantinople 11th, that a conciliatory note just issued by Reschid Pasha is considered of a nature to bring negotiations at once to a conclusion.

The feeling among commercial men is decidedly favorable.

The English and French fleets are still at Borika bay. General news is scarce. No subject more nationally interesting than the weather.

The ship Sovereign of the Seas is up for Australia.

The steamship Great Britain undertakes to reach Melbourne in sixty days from Liverpool, or forfeit forty shillings per ton freight.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—During the week mainly owing to the Pacific opinion on the eastern question, grades of American from low middling uplands have advanced 16th to 8th, whilst the lower had attracted attention of speculators and were more saleable at previous rates—market closed firm. Authorized quotations are fair; Orleans 7d; middling 6d 3-16; fair Mobiles 6½d.

BREAD STUFFS.—Market considerably excited during the week from heavy rains for one or two days, and the opening of French ports to free imports, business in Flour large at 9d to 1s improvement.

Wheat in good demand, 2d to 3d dearer. Indian Corn little doing, but quoted 6d higher. Dennistown & Co's quotations: white Wheat 8s a 8s 3d; red and mixed 7s 6d; Western Canal Flour 27s 6d a 28s; Baltimore and Philadelphia 28s. 6d.

FRANCE.

There is a rumor in circulation that private intelligence reported the American minister at Constantinople, had addressed a note to the Porte, announcing that the United States would associate with the other Powers to support Turkish integrity, and would henceforth claim a voice in the affairs of Europe. The rumor was disbelieved, however.

There is a great dearth of news.

It was currently stated that the condition of the Empress required a postponement of her contemplated visit to the Pyrenees. There is a good deal of gossip on the subject. The French press mostly view the Eastern difficulty as about over. The Porte had paid the cash into the French treasury for forty thousand Vincennes rifles, and took opportunity to contradict the report that the Turkish finances were exhausted. The Moniteur publishes a decree stating that the prohibitions imposed by the Ordinance of February 8th, 1826, will cease provisionally as to corn and flour imported from the British possessions in Europe.

The number of arrests consequent on the supposed conspiracy discovered at the Opera, is now over two hundred.

The King has issued a proclamation that he will dismiss from his service any officer who marrying a Roman Catholic, shall promise to bring up his children in that faith. This is intended as a protest against recent Papal encroachments.

SWITZERLAND.

The Federation intend making a change in diplomatic representation to France and Austria, and will send Ministers instead of Charges.

The Austrian blockade of Ticonese frontier is as vigorous as ever, although some few of the expelled citizens had been permitted to return to harvest their crops, there being a deficiency of labor.

A domiciliary visit was made at the house of the London Time's correspondent, in Vienna, and some arrests of Italians followed, discoveries made there.

Recently a band of Hungarian prisoners filled seventeen carts were taken into Pesth, crime unknown.

Troops are still being concentrated at Peterwardein. These are rumors of projected changes in Austrian Cabinet.

The Time's correspondence from Vienna, July 17th, states the unheard of conduct of the Commander of St Louis, almost exclusively occupied public attention, and John P. Brown's share in it was severely reprobated. The Oest's correspondence, semi-official, says the brutal behaviour of the American commander excited indescribable indignation in the minds of all the Cabinet and the well disposed population of Smyrna. The Organ praises the prudent determined and courageous behaviour of the Austrian Consul and commanders, and says the Austrian brig Artemesia is continually hovering near the American sloops. Further the official report adds, the Austrian War Steamer Custozza was expected at Smyrna on 6th. If Baron Bruck understands, the real feelings of Austria, he will give positive instructions to the Capt. of the Custozza to avoid all and every collision with the Americans it being evident that P. Brown and Capt. Ingram, represent the feeling of the nation to which they belong.

The following will show how it is. The undersigned beg the Consul General of France to take into safe keeping Martin Kosseta prisoner on board the Austrian brig Hussard and whose nationality, and, consequently his claim to protection are in dispute between the respective embassys at Constantinople, as between the Consulates at Smyrna, the undersigned beg the French Consul to undertake his custody on these conditions, viz:—The individual named shall be brought ashore from the brig as early to-day as possible under a guard of soldiers to the French factory and be there handed to the French Consul or his agent as the Consul may appoint. The expenses of the prisoner's keep shall be entirely at the French Consul's discretion, and shall be paid by the undersigned Consul to Austria.

The prisoner shall be prohibited from communicating without, except undersigned, and shall be permitted to speak with no one in the factory except those appointed by the undersigned.

It is expressly agreed that the Consul of France shall not set the prisoner at liberty except from the joint demand of the undersigned.

F. S. Offley, Consul of the U. S. Weckbecker Consul General of Austria, Dated Smyrna July.

Our information rests here, except that on the evening of the 6th the American Minister was serenaded by refugees at Constantinople.

RUSSIA.

The Russians were fortifying Gessey at Bucharist, and had occupied Ellimetsea on the Danube. Agents were agitating the Servians and Bornians. Several influential men, favoring the Turkish party were banished to the Austrian territory. Te deums were sung in all the churches for the Czar, and railroads, telegraphs, and trade with the rich districts of southern Russia and Austria, are held out as rich inducements for Russian alliance. The Moldavians are said to receive their promises cordially. The Wallachians coldly, notwithstanding the favorable accounts via Berlin from St. Petersburg, it is expected the Russians will remain in the Principalities until spring on pretext that the army is now in winter quarters and cannot be disturbed, or at least long negotiations will issue whether Turkey or Russia will first take backward steps. The Russian head quarters were at Bucharist.

The Morning Chronicle has a telegraphic despatch from Belgrade of the 15th, that the Senate being devoted to Russia had insisted the reigning Prince should abdicate in favor of his son. The Prince had quitted Belgrade, and demanded three days to consider.

TURKEY.

A conspiracy has been discovered among the Imaum students to assassinate the Sultan, and to proclaim his brother, Abdel Aziz. Fifteen were bowstringed. The war party is much incensed against the pacific policy of the government. The statement is confirmed that the Grand Vizier and Reschid Pasha were dismissed on the 9th, on account of personal dissensions, but the Sultan reflecting on the critical condition of affairs, in face of a change of ministers, reinstated both one night.

Mahomet Pasha, ex-minister at London, is appointed governor of Adrinople.

The Turks do not cease their warlike preparations, and trouble was experienced in keeping the troops from committing some outbreak in their ardor against the Russians.

NORTHERN AFRICA.

In consequence of apprehended deficiency in the crops throughout the Barbary States, the Bey of Tunis has forbidden the export of breadstuffs for three months.

INDIA.

The mails have arrived, bringing nothing more than already telegraphed from India.

China papers report the capture of Nankin by the insurgents. We are left totally in the dark respecting the alleged defeat of the insurgents, and recapture of the city.

The British steamer Hermes had been communicating with the insurgents, explaining to them the neutral position of the European powers. The Hermes brings the curious statement that the insurgents profess the strictest Christianity.

AUSTRIA.

Sidney dates to April 21st. Mining generally prosperous, imports wanted, prices rule high: gold at Melbourne cheaper, three pounds fifteen shillings sterling. Victoria and New South Wales, seventy-seven shillings three pence to six pence, West Indies mail steamer Oronoco arrived, Chagres from the 25th Jamaica 27th, Jamaica politics continued unsettled, fever prevalent, British Guiante trade dull, provisions dear rain had benefitted the sugar cane, Trinidad sugar nearly reaped, deficiency only five hundred hogsheads, shipping scarce.

Barbadoes healthy. Crops large, and shipping scarce. France and Eucador have settled their differences. Chili is prosperous. Peru and Bolivia are apparently on the point of war. A revolution has broken out in Venezuela, and the insurgents had twice attacked Valencia city unsuccessfully. Caracas and Laguira remained faithful. Guyria city had capitulated to the insurgents, and had shipped off the authorities to Trinidad Maturin. Barcelona, Margurita Island, has also revolted. The insurgents declare themselves Federalists, and the movement is pretty general. General Paez is supposed to be the leading spirit.

SECOND DISPATCH.

ARRIVAL OF THE WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, August 4.

The steamship Washington arrived to-day. The Niagara arrived out on the 7th, and the Baltic on the 19th.

Increased confidence is felt in the maintenance of peace. A ministerial crisis has appeared in Constantinople, in a conspiracy being discovered to depose the Sultan and substitute his brother, and declare war against the Russians. Fifteen of the conspirators had been bow strung.

The Hungarian refugee, Costa, was given up to the French Consul at Smyrna, to await the result of negotiations. The Austrian and American Corvettes had each cleared their decks ready for action, when the French and English Consuls interfered and prevented a conflict.

Advices from China to the 18th May state the rebels still held Nankin, and were awaiting reinforcements to march on Pekin. The Rebels had raised the banner of Christianity, translated the bible, and adopted the Protestant form of faith, acknowledging Jesus Christ as their Savior, the Trinity, and Ten Commandments.

LATEST.

The head quarters of the Russian army had been established at Bucharist. Eighty thousand troops were encamped in the environs. Troops were still marching from Vienna to the south. Seventy two guns of heavy calibre arrived at Jassy July 8. At London, Consols had advanced one and a half, closing at 95.

Excursion to Camden.

Should the weather prove favorable to-day the steamer Governor will make an excursion to Camden, starting at half past one o'clock this afternoon.

CHIROGRAPHY.

The citizens of Bangor will please notice and govern themselves accordingly, that MR. SCRIBNER, the successful teacher of this very useful accomplishment, has furnished Rooms in an airy, convenient and superior manner, at No 2 Harlow's Block, rear of [illegible] Bartlett's Book Store, where classes are forming daily from 9 to 11 A. M., from 2 to 4 and 6½ to 10 P. M. A rare opportunity is thus offered to persons of all ages to receive a thorough course of systematic instruction in the Duntonian style of elegant, rapid, business writing, which has met the commendations of committees and teachers, and others in the large cities of New England, and which is rapidly being adopted in all the best schools throughout the country. Jl8

REMEMBER THIS!

Let no one, old or young, who wishes to acquire a fair and handsome style of writing, neglect it with ease and freedom, fail to improve the chances offered by Mr. Scribner, at No. 2 Harlow's Block, to-day, to-morrow, and next week.

WONDERFUL AND EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATISM OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

Never in my life have I had so much pleasure in doing any thing as in giving this certificate to the world, and I hope it may be the cause of thousands of my fellow creatures being relieved from that terrible disease, rheumatism. My wife has been afflicted with it for twenty years most of the time suffering excruciating pains in every part of her body. Having no appetite whatever, she was reduced almost to a skeleton. So violent were the pains that she seldom could sleep without taking large doses of opium. Every joint was swelled very much, and her knees, hands, and neck covered with large lumps. She could do no kind of work, the sinews and muscles being so hard and contracted that her limbs were drawn together, so that she was obliged to be in bed constantly. In this condition she had been for twenty years, without ever getting any relief from every thing she used, until she commenced the use of H. G. FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT, the first bottle of which produced a great change. She has now used five bottles, and the swellings have nearly all gone down; pain has entirely left her; she sleeps well and soundly; is more fleshy than she ever was in her life; has an excellent appetite, and spins and sews all day. By the use of a few bottles more she must be as well as ever she was. If any one doubts this wonderful cure he has only to call at my residence near Peoria, and learn the circumstances from my wife's own lips, or he can further inquire of any of my neighbors. SAMUEL ELSON.

H. G. FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT is also an excellent remedy for palsy, sprains, bruises, cramps, chilblains, burns, pains, toothache, sore eyes, etc, and in horses or cattle is the best remedy in the world where an external application is required.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.

The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W. B. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counterfeits, because his having the name of Farrell, many will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists, and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects.

The genuine article is manufactured only by H. G. Farrell, sole inventor and proprietor, and wholesale druggist, No 17 Main Street, Peoria, Illinois, to whom all applications for Agencies must be addressed. Be sure you get it with the letters H. G. before Farrell's, thus—H. G. FARRELL'S—and his signature on the wrappers, all others are counterfeits.

Sold by INGRAHAM & FULLER, wholesale and retail, Bangor. Also by R. F. Kinsell, Oldtown. French & Hamilton, Dexter. Geo. Parcher, Ellsworth. P. O. Flaherty, Houlton. And by regularly authorized agents throughout the United States.

☞ Price 25 and 50 cents, and $1 per bottle.

AGENTS WANTED in every town, village and hamlet in the United States, in which one is not already established. Address H. G. Farrell as above, accompanied with good reference as to character, responsibility, &c.

Great Excitement!

Among Carriage Makers.

THE subscribers have purchased the right to make, use and sell

Everett's Patent Coupling

for the Counties of Penobscot, Piscataquis Waldo Hancock Washington and Aroostook The advantages of the above Coupling over the old method of connecting the main part of the Carriage with the front part is such that it must come into general use when it is properly understood High forward wheels can be used and we get rid of the galling irons, as the wheels do not strike the body, and the carriage turns in a very small compass the hind wheels not describing more than 4 to 6 feet circle It is perfectly simple, and not so liable to get out of order as the old method Those who have used the above are fully satisfied of its utility as certificates below show It can be attached to old carriages at a small expense, and we are prepared to sell the right for shops, towns and would sell a part of the above named Counties, at such a rate that any smart man with a small capital, could realize a great profit from the sale of the above Any person wishing information will receive immediate attention at our place of business, or by dropping us a line by mail, post paid

We have leave to refer to Messrs I. B Norcross, Chase & Littlefield and C S Coe, Esq , who are using the same D W MORRILL & CO

Self Acquired Fame!

DR. JOHNSON'S
AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT.
For Internal and External Use.

THIS wonderful Medicine, notwithstanding it has never had the advantage of newspaper publicity, has yet acquired a higher and more extended popularity than any other similar compound in the world It is entirely of vegetable extraction perfectly safe to be administered even to the most delicate child and alike astonishing and satisfactory in its effects upon man or beast To those unacquainted with this invaluable medicine we say Give it a fair trial, and we promise you a radical cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Spitting of Blood and all Lung Complaints, Chronic Diarrhoea, and Dysentery in all of which cases it should be used internally The effects of its external application in cases of Rheumatism Spinal Diseases Sprains Chapped Hands, Bruises, Burns, and all descriptions of wounds are magical Persons troubled with Cramp in the Stomach, Side, or Bowels, Sore Throat Piles, &c, by a combined internal and external application of this Anodyne, cannot fail of certain and speedy cure The proprietor can produce volumes of testimonials in its favor but prefers to let it carry its own recommendations, as it has done for forty years past We ask no man to use it after an unsatisfactory trial In its composition it unites several of the most penetrating and healing specifics known to the materia medica —The inventor of this article was in the constant and successful practice of medicine for more than twenty years

This is to certify that having been troubled for a number of years with a distressing cough and bleeding at the lungs, and receiving no benefit from medical aid, in 1848 I was to all appearance in the last stage of consumption My legs swelled so that I was unable to stand or help myself. At that time your Liniment was providentially recommended to me and by the use of three or four bottles I was entirely cured, and have since been able to labor every day I have also for the last twenty years been subject to severe attacks of bloody dysentery, and never found any permanent relief until I took your Liniment, since which I have had no return of this complaint I can truly say I think your Anodyne Liniment was the means of saving my life JOHN F ATKINS
Brewer, Sept 29, 1852.

DR JOHNSON Dear Sir—In consequence of having a fever sore on my leg, it became entirely stiff at the knee, and it was decided by the best surgeons that my leg must be amputated—but fortunately I heard of your Anodyne Liniment and by using three bottles my leg was limbered and strengthened and for a number of years I have been able to use it about as well as the other I consider myself indebted to the use of your Liniment through the blessing of Providence, for the use of my leg and would say to others who may need help in this way, try it, and no doubt you will be cured RUFUS CHAPMAN

INVIGORATING CORDIAL!

FOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitude, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion to ripe years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered In fact as a remedy for the above complaints it stands unrivalled and alone There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested and its virtues proclaimed by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe as well as by eminent Physicians in this country It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found, the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASED It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION EXCITEMENT incapacity to study or business loss of MEMORY CONFUSION thoughts of Self Destruction fear of insanity, &c It will restore the appetite renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses, or evil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders, emissions, &c were incurable This however is not the fact

DR MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has, and is constantly curing these complaints relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show

Dr Woodward of the Massachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this cordial thus — It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients while in Boston procured some of your Cordial He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week When he applied to me, says Dr W., I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength I prescribed the usual medicine used in these cases in this hospital, but they had no effect He then purchased some of your Cordial which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would I shall ever recommend whenever an opportunity occurs

The nature of the maladies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question, and the proprietor could produce host of the most conclusive testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently miraculous virtues In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended

have not in a single instance but has been authenticated given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character

THE COMMON EXPRESSION

Of those who have used this Extract is—"I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsaparillas) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief when I purchased some of your Cordial I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has I feel stronger, have had no emissions since although it is not three weeks I am satisfied the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

Another says—"I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured others prescribed this thing and that but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial I must say it completely cured me"

Another says—"I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering

CAUTION.—Ask for Dr Morse's Cordial and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame and popularity, have brought into the market It will not hurt the most delicate Female, but do good Beware of all other Cordials, &c, (and try only this)

NOTICE Persons conscious of physical inability from causes above named may confidentially consult Dr Morse personally or by letter, (post paid) at his office, 78 Sudbury street, Boston The necessary advice and medicine for the speedy removal of such disability will be safely forwarded to the writer's address.

Dr M is prepared to warrant a perfect cure in every case or take no pay

Extract of a Letter from Mr John Lloyd, of Erw wen, near Harlech, Merionethshire

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you, that for a very long period I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and frequent swimmings in the head attended by loss of appetite disordered stomach and generally impaired health Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief and at length it became so alarming that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant In this melancholy condition I waited personally upon Mr Hughes, Chemist Harlech for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do, he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy I am now restored to perfect health and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

To the readers of the Whig

Will you read the Truth.

A MEDICINE must have merit and great merit too to stand the test of public opinion No art of puffing can galvanise a worthless article so as to keep it alive as a good medicine if it be not really so

A good medicine will live, become popular and extend its sales year after year in spite of opposition The people readily find out its virtues and its fame passes from mouth to mouth with more rapidity than newspapers can spread it. A living witness testifying to the cure that a medicine has made for him, is of far more service than any newspaper advertising.

In proof of what we say above we refer you to HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE, and its effects Its praise is in the mouths of multitudes The best men in our country give their testimony to its wonderful cures Among them we name Hon Henry Clay, Hon Richard M Johnson, Vice President of the United States with hundreds of others Capt Thomas Canot—brother to the celebrated physician of the Emperor of France—was cured by it of a disease of seven years' standing after the skill of the doctors of Europe and America had failed

In the United States Navy it is taken with great success, several officers being cured by it, officers of the Department, Washington speak of its wonderful cures

In fact, the rich and the poor, young and old, in every place, in the city and country find the same success attends its use

HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE is purely vegetable, and warranted free from all mineral substances This Tincture, by its mild, pleasant and safe action on the stomach Liver, Kidneys lungs, and the nervous system cures Dyspepsia Liver Complaint, Diseases of the Urinary Organs Coughs, Asthma Bronchial Affections, Consumption, Scrofula, King's Evil, Worms, Rheumatism Gout, Neuralgia St Vitus Dance Fits, Nervous Affections generally Fistula, Piles Bowel Complaints, with all diseases arising from impure blood As a remedy for the various derangements of the female system, it seems to have no superior

☞What we ask of the public, in introducing this valuable medicine is to throw aside their prejudices and give it a fair trial We shall publish in this paper, from time to time, testimony from persons whose reputation is known throughout the United States, and who have been entirely cured when other medicines have failed. It is no humbug and the public will be satisfied that what we say is TRUE, after a fair trial.

How the Discovery of the Vegetable Tincture was made.

DR HAMPTON, now in his 77th year was early in life much reduced by disease, and spent much of his living in medical advice and grew nothing better but worse ; when finding that none of the mineral medicine could reach his case, he came to himself and thought, why should I die with disease when the Creator has provided in his vegetable kingdom that which will make me whole again I will go and search out those roots and herbs which I have seen the Indians and the early pioneers give for the cure of disease I will compound them, so increase or decrease the quantity of each until I get such a mixture as shall cure me of my disease The doctor carried out his noble resolution, brought to his aid the experience of the RED MAN and all others from whom any thing could be learned of the healing powers of the roots of the vegetable kingdom In a short time, as by magic the Doctor was cured of his disease The fame thereof spread abroad, his neighbors sent far and near for this wonderful discovery, which was freely given to them and all took with the same success, until the demand became so great that the Doctor could no longer do it to himself and without great pecuniary loss supply the demand gratis which induced him reluctantly, by the advice of his friends to put a small price on his Vegetable tincture which was cheerfully paid, and considered but small indeed the amount of good received by those who took his medicine—the most wonderful discovery in the healing art of the age

The world cannot produce Stronger Evidence

Than this kindly handed to us by J. St Gabriel, Esq, of the Fountain Hotel Light street a gentleman extensively and favorably known The writer of the letter Capt Canot, is the brother of the celebrated physician to Louis Napoleon President of the French Republic Numerous of our most respectable citizens will give equally strong testimony in favor of

Hampton's Vegetable Tincture

It is a most certain cure for Dyspepsia Scrofula Liver Complaint, &c and all diseases from impure blood

BALTIMORE June 4 1851
Mr Stockbridge, of the Fountain Hotel, Light st Baltimore
Dear Sir—Being on the point of leaving the city I avail myself of a few idle moments to thank you kindly for the medicine you sent me and which has restored me to the use of my hands I beg you to send me four bottles more to carry on my voyage Since I had the fortune to use Dr Hampton's Vegetable tincture my confidence is so strong that, in gratitude to the proprietors of the medicine I beg you to present my respects to them and induce them to make it more publicly known as a sure Rheumatic cure Having called on me on the 19th of April last and seen me prostrated on my bed useless in all my limbs you can appreciate nearly as well as myself the prompt relief I received from Dr Hampton's Tincture and I am positive had it not been for your strong and forcible recommendations I should still have been in bed

It is really a pity this specific should not be approved by medical men, and like all patent medicines it should suffer the imputation the public generally give to such preparations I myself who was always opposed to a patent specific, took this medicine with reluctance and without confidence in it, and it was only through your disinterested friendly recommendation and my critical situation that induced me to try this really beneficial Vegetable Tincture

You may inform Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, that they are at liberty to make use of my name in the support of the good effects of Dr Hampton's Vegetable Tincture as it has cured me, in five weeks of a chronic inflammatory Rheumatism contracted under tropical climates and of 7 years periodical duration. I have only used three bottles, and find that even the deformed parts of my hands are fast returning to their former natural appearance

I have been under the treatment of several physicians in London and Paris without any apparent benefit, also, while in New York having tried the Thompsonian and Homoeopathic remedies after having been tormented with galvanic batteries cold and aromatic baths and hundreds of internal and external remedies, all to no effect, I am so far cured by this Hampton's Vegetable Tincture only

I therefore, my dear sir, accept of the assurance of my gratitude, and believe me your well wisher

BALTIMORE May 1 1853

Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray —Gentlemen—It is with pleasure I can testify to the great healing powers of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture My wife had been afflicted for three years, laboring under a constant hacking cough with a most violent pain in the right side, neuralgia of the head and dimness of sight, very little rest day or night and much emaciation, and to all appearances a rapid consumption inevitable We had the most eminent physician in Annapolis but his medicine did not give her any relief at all but growing worse if any change in the least, and having read one of your pamphlets, in July last she concluded to try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture and after taking but two bottles of which (under a kind Providence) we perceived a great change for the better, her appetite improved, her skin became quite clear coughs, pains neuralgia &c entirely left her, and by the time she had taken a few bottles more she was completely cured, and is now in the enjoyment of excellent health
